

2017 LEADERSHIP SUMMIT

TALENT MANAGEMENT AGILITY

November 7th – 8th

Workshops — November 9th – 10th

At this year's Leadership Summit, participants will reflect on their current organization's practices, learn from working both with industry experts and their peers, and will leave with new ideas and implementation plans that they can immediately put to use.

In response to the rapid workforce changes created by digital transformations, organizations are experimenting with new approaches to leadership development and performance management.

Getting this right requires organizations to:

- Change their culture by improving leadership development.
- Define extraordinary leadership in the digital age.
- Create a feedback driven culture.
- Leverage internal talent for better results.
- Integrate talent management and HR processes.
- Increase the coachability of the workforce.
- Make the most of hidden pools of talent.
- Boldly drive a high-performing leadership culture.
